Our company has been importing used and recondition vehicles from Japan and Europe for more than 30 years. Often we encounter cars that are poorly taken care of by previous owners. One such example is the smell of cigarette smokes and other kinds of odors. We have tried many types of method in dealing with this problem such as using air refreshener available in the market but it only dealt with the problem temporarily.

Such incident was from a used Mercedes Benz C200K which we imported from Japan, which had severe cigarette odor from the seat cushion and air conditioner. After repeated cleaning, using air refreshener and other specialised cleaning detergent, we only manage to temporarily remove the smell for about 3 days. So we started looking for alternative method to recondition the car. We were introduced to RS Nano Bear and decided to give it a try. After using RS Nano Bear in my problem cars for less than a week, the smell of cigarette smoke and other odors are no longer there and it actually dealt with the problem permanently. There are fewer complaints from customer about smelly car interiors and it made it easier to sell.

Yours truly,
